CASE STUDY 1
PPV BOXING EVENT

From an exhibit designer's point of view...

Xpressions® was the perfect medium for HBO's needs when it came to this project. They wanted some light-weight, portable standing graphics that could be used to dress up the corridor that the boxers enter the ring through.

Another key need: these frames needed to be set-up and broken down in minutes. Not only does Xpressions® fill this need, but it allows for the ability to repurpose the skins for multiple messages at different events! Also, the Xpressions® fabric is perfect for video or photography – absolutely no glare!

Xpressions® created big impact within a small space, resulting in a successful event!
